Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, Math

BRING SOME STEAM TO YOUR CLASSROOM!

STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Mathematics) grants provide funding to individual teachers for classroom projects. STEAM adds art concepts to the traditional STEM category, introducing elements of creativity to applied science and math projects. Individual teachers are eligible to apply for this grant program.

Recent projects funded include:

- "Introduction to Engineering" curriculum
- A web cam to study the life cycle of the osprey
- "Cooking with Kids" curriculum
- Reflex: Math Fact Fluency programming
- Integrating Technology and Art

...And many more!

STEAM grants are funded by the Community Foundation of NCW and the Woods Family Music and Arts Grant, and administered by the North Central Education Foundation.
